  6. Conflict Dogs Papuan Peace Chance,
Ahmad Pathoni/AAP, Australian, 2006-02-19Indonesian President Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono is eager to halt the low-level insurgency in eastern Papua after ending a decades-long separatist conflict in Aceh, at the other extremity of the sprawling archipelago nation. But "the problem with Papua is: who has the legitimacy to negotiate on behalf of Papuans with the government?" said Dewi Fortuna Anwar, an analyst with the Habibie Center think tank.
  7. Indonesia Caught In Moral Panic,
Adrian Vickers, Age, 2006-02-17The Bali nine are trapped in a Muslim moral renewal that is sweeping the country. For many years now groups with names such as "Defenders of the Faith" have been raiding nightclubs in Jakarta and other major cities, determined to get rid of the bars and prostitution that they see as a degrading influence on their nation.
  8. Does Tokelau Really Have A Future?
Maggie Tait, NZPA, 2006-02-17 Tokelau has just voted to stay with New Zealand instead of opting for change. Does such a small country - population 1600 - even have a future to run?

  10. Some SDF Members May Stay After Iraq Pullout,
Yomiuri Shimbun, 2006-02-20In an attempt to keep a Japanese presence in Iraq after the GSDF units' withdrawal, the U.S. government has asked Japan to dispatch GSDF units to provincial reconstruction teams (PRTs) to help improve the governing and security capabilities of Iraqi municipalities. The government has rejected the request, but it believes that coordination with the multinational forces would go smoothly if some GSDF members stayed in Iraq.

Briefing note: AFP Death Penalty Guidelines

Man Faces Death After AFP Drug Help,
Tom Hyland, Age, 2006-02-19

Federal police face fresh controversy over their policy of giving information to foreign police in cases that can end in death for Australians. News of the AFP's role in the arrest of Australian man Huu Trinh comes as the AFP fends off criticism from civil liberties groups for giving Indonesian police information that led to the arrests of the Bali nine drug smugglers.

Briefing note: Navy Fires on Illegal Fishing Boat

Illegal fishing boat intercepted after shots fired,
ABC New Online, February 19, 2006.

Defence Minister Brendan Nelson has confirmed another large illegal fishing boat has been intercepted in Australia's northern waters, 25 nautical miles within Australia's economic exclusive zone, north of Darwin. This follows the detection of a Chinese boat a week ago that is believed to have been acting as a large freezer for illegal fishing operations. Dr Nelson has told Channel Nine that force had to be used with the Indonesian boat.
