6. Hopes Rise for Deal to End Timor Unrest, Mark Forbes, Age, 2006-05-22An end to weeks of unrest in East Timor is set to be brokered with rebel soldiers, with the intervention of President Xanana Gusmao. An agreement negotiated by Timor's Foreign Minister Jose Ramos Horta will see the independence fighter lead a retreat with rebel leaders to finalise the peace package. It is believed military commander, Dr Ramos Horta and Mr Alkatiri will also attend the retreat.

8. Fiji Plans to Bar the Country's Armed Forces Commander from Politics, PM Says, AP, www.stuff.co.nz, 2006-05-22Mr Qarase, sworn in for a second five-year term, said he would seek an interpretation from the Supreme Court on the constitutional role of the military. Military chief Commodore Frank Bainimarama, who backed the opposition in the election, marched troops through the capital, Suva, during the May 6-13 election.
9. Armed Attacks in Bougainville Spark Fears of Civil War, Steve Marshall, ABC The World Today, 2006-05-15There are fears that a spate of armed attacks against police posts in Bougainville could signal a concerted attempt to plunge the island back into civil war. In the last week, the autonomous Government of Bougainville has been forced to arm the police force on the island for the first time since 1998, when a peace treaty ended a long-running war over money and mining.
10. Solomons PM Wants Inquiry on Police, Mary-Louise O'Callaghan, Australian, 2006-05-22Solomon Islands Prime Minister called for an inquiry into the handling of last month's riots by the two Australian policemen heading the country's police forces. But speaking after Foreign Minister Alexander Downer delivered blunt messages on the future of the Australian-led and funded Regional Assistance Mission to Solomon Islands (RAMSI), Manasseh Sogavare conceded there would be chaos if RAMSI was withdrawn.

12. Pacific Unrest Brings NZ and Australia Closer on Defence, NZPA, New Zealand Herald 2006-0-21NZ Defence Minister, Phil Goff, said after yesterday's meeting with Dr Brendan Nelson: "Recent developments in East Timor, Bougainville, and Fiji emphasised the importance of the two countries working together with their Pacific neighbours to achieve security and stability in the region." Mr Goff later added that NZ and Australia had the same responses planned for Timor Leste, the Solomons and Fiji.

13. Industry Praises Lead Climate Role, Amanda Hodge, Australian, 2006-05-20 The Government yesterday secured the co-chair position in a fresh round of talks that draws all parties - Kyoto Protocol countries, protocol outsiders Australia and the US and developing nations - back to the negotiating table. The Future Action Dialogue, will discuss how to tackle climate change after the protocol's first commitment period ends in 2012.
