- Wade Huxley Publishes Article on South Asian Nuclear Tests (October 8, 1999). The text states: "The Nautilus Institute's Security Program Director, Wade Huxley, published 'Alternative Futures after the South Asian Nuclear Tests: Proliferation as Prerequisite' in Vol. 30, No. 3 (May/June 1999) of Asian Survey. The article offers a conceptual framework within which the implications of the long-term implications of the South Asian nuclear tests may be systematically assembled and assessed. It outlines the background and context for the nuclear tests, and presents a set of scenarios that describe a range of possible courses of events in Asia in the wake of the nuclear tests and in the context of the tests' wider regional implications. Each scenario is derived from varying assumptions concerning the disposition of selected contemporary critical uncertainties."
- Industry-NGO Roundtable on Corporate Accountability (October 1, 1999). The text states: "The California Global Corporate Accountability Project, in collaboration with the Environmental and Natural Resources Law and Policy Program at Stanford Law School, will hold a Roundtable, 'Hard Issues, New Approaches: Strategies For Improving the NGO-Industry Dialogue on...'"
