FOR $3M", 2009/09/22) reported that a letter written by Pakistani nuclear scientist Dr. Abdul Qadeer Khan to his Dutch wife in 2003 and revealed by the Times of London indicates that the Pakistan government might have approved the sales of nuclear secrets to Iran and several other countries including DPRK. "(A now-retired general) took $3 million through me from the N. Koreans and asked me to give some drawings and machines," the letter states.

3. US on DPRK Nuclear Program

Yonhap News (Hwang Doo-hyong, "U.S. PLEDGES PACKAGE OF INCENTIVES IN RETURN FOR N. KOREA'S DENUCLEARIZATION ", Washington, 2009/09/22) reported that the United States Tuesday reiterated that it will provide a package of incentives to the DPRK if it takes irreversible steps toward its denuclearization. "We've been very clear that if the DPRK takes irreversible steps leading to complete denuclearization and thereby upholds its commitments made in the joint statement of 2005, that we and our partners would be prepared to reciprocate in a comprehensive and coordinated manner, that we'd prepare to discuss some kind of package of steps that we could take," State Department spokesman Ian Kelly said.

4. DPRK Government

Institute for Far Eastern Studies ("NORTH KOREA SHUFFLES CABINET IN EFFORT TO BUILD A STRONG AND PROSPEROUS NATION ", 2009/09/22) reported that in order to meet the goal of building a 'Strong and Prosperous Nation' by the year 2012, DPRK authorities are reshuffling some positions within the Cabinet, which is its 'Economic Headquarters'. During the first session of the 12th Supreme People's Assembly (SPA) last April, Kim Jong Il launched his third regime, and now less than 6 months later, is restructuring the Cabinet.

5. DPRK-PRC Relations

Yonhap News (Sam Kim, "(LEAD) N. KOREA SENDS MILITARY DELEGATION TO CHINA AMID SIGNS OF THAW IN NUCLEAR TALKS ", Seoul, 2009/09/22) reported that the DPRK said it sent a military delegation led by a confidant of leader Kim Jong-il to the PRC on Tuesday, signaling a widening thaw in talks over its nuclear arms programs. "A military delegation led by Vice Minister of the People's Armed Forces Pak Jae-gyong left Pyongyang to visit China," the official Korean Central News Agency said in a Korean-language dispatch.

6. DPRK Food Security

Yonhap News ("N. KOREAN CORN CROP TO FALL BY 40 PERCENT: AGRONOMIST ", Seoul, 2009/09/22) reported that the DPRK 's corn yield this year is expected to fall by 40 percent due to a fertilizer shortage and bad weather, the head of a Seoul-based aid group said Tuesday after a survey in the DPRK. The forecast yield portends a severe food shortage in the country where corn is believed to make up 40 percent of the total food supply. Seoul expects the DPRK will fall more than one million tons short of the 5.48 million tons of food needed to feed its population of 24 million this year.

7. Inter-Korea Relations

Yonhap News (Tony Chang, "AID GROUPS SLAM GOV'T BAN ON NORTH KOREAN AID AS 'COERCIVE' ", 2009/09/22) reported that a group of private aid groups on Tuesday urged the government to fully reopen the door for humanitarian assistance to the DPRK, arguing that Seoul should not withhold private contributions as a means of leverage to pressure Pyongyang. "Our government is using the aid programs, upon which many lives in the North depend, as a political tool to coerce the North Korean regime. Such measures will only exacerbate problems between the two Koreas," Rev. Park Chang-bin, chief operating officer of World Vision Korea, said at a press conference.

JoongAng Daily (Yoo Jee-ho , "PRESIDENT: POOR ECONOMY IN NORTH LIMITS UNIFICATION", 2009/09/23) reported that ROK President Lee Myung-bak said the DPRK economy first has to improve before the two Koreas can consider unification, saying peace on the peninsula remains the first priority. Lee said it may be difficult for the divided Koreas to reunite because of the large economic chasm separating them. "Unification with North Korea is important, but it's more important for the two Koreas to live in peace," Lee said. "The economic gap is too substantial for unification now. One-third of North Koreans are starving. That's why we're prepared to help North Korea if it gives up on nuclear weapons."

The defence ministry said the 400-ton boats -- the Han Sang Guk and the Jo Cheon Hyeong -- made their debut in the southern port city of Jinhae. They were named after soldiers killed in a 2002 naval clash with the DPRK and equipped with guided missiles with a range of up to 140 kilometres (84 miles).

"During the meeting, our minister called for Australia's cooperation against groups like Sea Shepherd (Conservation Society), which resort to violent action," a Japanese foreign ministry official said. Australian Foreign Minister Smith stopped short of replying to the request, only saying Australia wants to resolve the dispute through dialogue to avoid straining relations.

Hatoyama, who advocates an easing of Japan's long prickly ties with its giant neighbor, told Hu that he intends to push a vision of an East Asian community to unify the region, possibly under a single currency. "I told (Hu) that I would like to form an East Asian community by overcoming differences," Hatoyama told reporters.

Kyodo News ("HATOYAMA, HU AGREE TO WORK ON N.
