1. DPRK Nuclear Program

Korea Herald ("N. KOREA CANNOT UNILATERALLY GIVE UP NUKES: PRO-N.K. MEDIA", 2008/07/28) reported that the DPRK cannot unilaterally give up its nuclear weapons when it is technically at war with the US, a pro-DPRK newspaper published in Japan was quoted as saying. The Chosun Sinbo said Pyongyang cannot easily surrender its nuclear deterrent because it would be tantamount to lowering its guard while facing an enemy. The newspaper then called for a peace regime to be set up between the DPRK and the US. to replace the fragile armistice that ended the 1950-1953 Korean War.

7. DPRK Food Supply

Yonhap News ("NORTHEASTERN NK IN SERIOUS FOOD CRISIS: UN WEB SITE ", Seoul, 2008/07/28) reported that the DPRK is facing a dire food crisis in its northeastern regions, according to a United Nations-run Web site, amid rising concerns that the situation may be worsened by soaring grain prices and poor harvests. Assessing internal reports collected as of this week, ReliefWeb, a Web site run by the U.N. Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs, declared the DPRK is in an "acute food and livelihood crisis." Warning that illnesses such as diarrhea may be spreading, the site said the crisis has been brought on by "insufficient food intake, poor dietary diversity, increasing malnutrition rates" and chronic food deficits.

12. Japan Politics

Kyodo News ("CABINET RESHUFFLE UNLIKELY TO TAKE PLACE THIS MONTH", Tokyo, 2008/07/28) reported that Prime Minister Yasuo Fukuda will make a final judgment on whether to reshuffle his Cabinet after ministers attending ongoing World Trade Organization negotiations return home, making it unlikely that he will change the Cabinet makeup within this month, political sources said. Fukuda will draw a conclusion after hearing what lawmakers of the ruling Liberal Democratic Party and its coalition partner the New Komeito party have to say about when to convene an extraordinary Diet session.

The Yomiuri Shimbun ("OZAWA: DPJ WON'T CONTINUE DIET BOYCOTT", 2008/07/28) reported that Democratic Party of Japan President Ichiro Ozawa indicated the party would not boycott deliberations at the next extraordinary Diet session and would instead apply pressure on the government and the ruling bloc through debate. "People's livelihoods are the top priority, so we shall engage in debate from the viewpoint that politics is meant to protect people's livelihoods," Ozawa said, referring to what the party's basic stance is likely to be in the next extraordinary Diet session. Ozawa expressed his determination to force Prime Minister Yasuo Fukuda to dissolve the House of Representatives and hold a general election as soon as possible.
