1. ROK on Six Party Talks

Yonhap News ("S. KOREAN SECURITY OFFICIAL VISITS U.S. FOR NUCLEAR BREAKTHROUGH", 2006-02-23) reported that the ROK's chief security official headed Thursday to the US, where he is expected to discuss face-saving measures for the DPRK to return to stalled international talks over its nuclear weapons program. The four-day trip by Song Min-soon comes just ahead of a planned bilateral meeting between the US and the DPRK, raising hopes of a possible breakthrough in the near future.

2. DPRK on Six Party Talks

Chosun Ilbo ("N.KOREA SAYS BALL IS IN U.S. COURT ", 2006-02-23) reported that the DPRK's UN Ambassador Pak Gil-yon on Wednesday said a resumption of stalled six-party talks on the country's nuclear program depends entirely on the attitude of the US. Park was speaking at an event organized by New York's JoongAng Daily in Flushing, New York. "We are always ready" to attend the six-party talks, he said. If the US shows good faith, the six-party talks can resume, Park said.

3. WFP Food Aid to the DPRK

World Food Program ("WFP GOVERNING BODY APPROVES NORTH KOREA AID PLAN; SEEKS ASSURANCES ON MONITORING", 2006-02-23) reported that the World Food Programme's governing Executive Board today approved a two-year plan to build on the agency's ten-year record of humanitarian assistance to the DPRK by tackling nutritional deficiencies and chronic hunger. The program is valued at US$102 million and requiring 150,000 metric tons of commodities for 1.9 million North Koreans. "Our board members have raised reasonable questions about our access to people in need and ability to monitor their donations. WFP shares these concerns and has worked hard to negotiate improved conditions for our operation," said WFP Executive Director James Morris. "We now look to the government of the DPRK to agree to conditions that will allow us to do our work properly, for the sake of the people who need our help."

5. Kim Dae Jung on DPRK Visit

Yonhap News ("FORMER PRESIDENT CITES LACK OF PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR DELAYING N.K.VISIT", 2006-02-23) reported that former ROK President Kim Dae-jung said Thursday that he postponed his planned visit to the DPRK until June because of a lack of public support. In a meeting with newly elected ruling party leader Chung Dong-young and other officials, Kim said, "I made the final decision after finding out what the general public thinks of it."

6. Inter-Korean Cooperation

Yonhap News ("KOREAS AGREE TO CONFIRM FATE OF MISSING PEOPLE FROM KOREAN WAR", 2006-02-23) reported that the DPRK on Thursday agreed to work toward confirming the fate of missing RO Koreans from and after the 1950-53 Korean War. The agreement came at the end of three-day inter-Korean talks between the countries' Red Cross officials at Mount Geumgang.

\(return to top\) Yonhap News ("FOREIGN CORRESPONDENTS TO VISIT INDUSTRIAL PARK IN NORTH KOREA", 2006-02-23) reported that a group of foreign media correspondents based in the ROK are to visit an industrial complex for ROK firms located in the DPRK next week, Seoul's Unification Ministry said Thursday. The group, consisting of 124 correspondents from 70 foreign news outlets, is to take a one-day trip on Monday to Kaesong, a city just north of the heavily-fortified inter-Korean border, Vice Unification Minister Shin Un-sang told a regular news briefing. "The ministry hopes the trip will allow the foreign correspondents to personally feel the inter-Korean rapprochement and will lead to active participation and cooperation of the international community" in the joint project, Shin said. ## 7. Inter-Korean Economic Relations

Chosun Ilbo ("SEOUL COULD CUT ELECTRICITY OFFER TO N.KOREA: MINISTER", 2006-02-23) reported that Seoul will have to revise a plan to supply the DPRK with 2 million kW of electricity a year in return for dismantling its nuclear program, Unification Minister Lee Jong-seok said Thursday. "The proposal was predicated on North Korea giving up its nuclear development program and not building any light-water reactors." He added the contents of the proposal were fluid and the government will "search for a way to realize the proposal at minimum possible cost." Lee also said his government will "under no circumstances" shoulder the full cost of dismantling a halted project to build a light-water reactor in the DPRK's Sinpo. However, a Unification Ministry official later said the remarks meant that the period of power supply could change if new light-water reactors are built in the DPRK. But he added, "Nothing has changed in the government's position on the power supply proposal."

8. DPRK-Japan Relations

Kyodo News ("N. KOREA SAYS ASO RESPONSIBLE FOR JAPAN'S PAST DUE TO FAMILY LINKS", 2006-02-23) reported that Japanese Foreign Minister Taro Aso should "take the lead" in atoning for Japan's 35-year colonial rule of the Korean Peninsula, not just because of the job he holds but because of his family's ties to the country's wartime acts, the KCNA said Thursday. In a commentary,

KCNA accused a mining company operated by Aso's family of making Koreans work in its coal mines after they were forcibly taken to Japan during its 1910-1945 colonization of the peninsula.

9. Japan on Abductees in DPRK

Reuters ("JAPAN ISSUES ARREST WARRANTS FOR N. KOREAN AGENTS ", 2006-02-23) reported that Japan issued arrest warrants on Thursday for two suspected DPRK kidnappers, the latest step in a bitter, long-running row with the DPRK over Japanese nationals abducted by Pyongyang decades ago, media reports said. Chief Cabinet Secretary Shinzo Abe said Japanese authorities issued a fresh arrest warrant for former DPRK agent Sin Guang-su on suspicion of kidnapping two Japanese nationals in 1978. Japanese media said a warrant was also issued for Choe Sung-chol, who is suspected of having kidnapped two Japanese nationals in a separate 1978 incident.

11. ROK on DPRK Counterfeiting

Korea Times ("NK PRODUCES FAKE US BILLS IN PYONGYANG: LAWMAKER", 2006-02-23) reported that lawmakers of the main ROK opposition Grand National Party (GNP) Thursday urged the government to take steps to prevent the increasing circulation of fake US bills allegedly counterfeited by the DPRK. On the second day of a five-day interpellation at the National Assembly, Rep. Kim Jae-won of the conservative GNP claimed that the DPRK has produced counterfeit US banknotes at a factory located in Pyongyang, showing photos taken by satellites. The lawmaker also said the fake US bills have been distributed by the DPRK's state-run international trading company called Kwangmyungung to several foreign countries.

13. DPRK Train Derailed

Chosun Ilbo ("TRAIN DERAILED IN NORTH KOREA ", 2006-02-23) reported that a train that left Pyongyang for Beijing last Monday derailed in the area of Jeongju in North Pyongan Province, it emerged Thursday. A source in the DPRK said the train, which left for Shinuiju at about 7 a.m., derailed and rolled over about three hours later, resulting in the suspension of all traffic on the Pyongyang-Shinuiju line. The source said the People's Army stationed in the area cordoned off the area and the situation was brought under control. The train between Pyongyang and Beijing is normally used by diplomats visiting China or those involved in trade, and also transports goods for import and export.

14. ROK on 1983 DPRK Bombing of Rangoon

Yonhap News ("CALLS RISE FOR REVIEW OF 1983 RANGOON BOMBING BY NORTH KOREA", 2006-02-23) reported that twenty-three years after 17 high-ranking Seoul government officials were killed in a DPRK bombing in Burma, now Myanmar, the full truth may be known soon as one of the DPRK agents involved wants to live in the ROK, according to a ROK lawmaker. On Oct. 9, 1983, a powerful bomb demolished the Martyr's Mausoleum in Rangoon, now Yangon, just before visiting ROK President Chun Doo-hwan was to pay homage there. Chun cancelled the rest of his schedule, returned to Seoul and pinpointed the DPRK as the culprit. The DPRK denied involvement but Burma, with evidence, publicly incriminated Pyongyang and severed diplomatic ties with it.
