10. US Role in Cross-Straits Talks

Tsai Ing-wen, the top Taiwanese official handling PRC policy, asked for the US to play a mediating role between Taiwan and the PRC. US officials, however, said that the US does not seek to play such a role. The PRC said that the matter should be handled by people on the two sides of the Taiwan Straits, without outside interference.

Japan

13. Japanese Elections

Following the death of former Japanese Prime Minister Keizo Obuchi, acting Prime Minister Yoshiro Mori set June 25 as the date for parliamentary elections, but critics warned that his ruling Liberal Democratic Party could have its electoral chances damaged by Mori's recent remark describing Japan as a "divine country centered on the emperor."
