1. DPRK Nationals in PRC

The ROK government and the UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) continue to make protests to the PRC government over the deportation of seven DPRK nationals whom the UNHCR classified as refugees. The PRC maintains that the seven are simply illegal immigrants undeserving of any special status.

2. DPRK Diplomacy

In the wake of Italy's decision to normalize relations with the DPRK, US Special Envoy Charles Kartman and DPRK Vice Foreign Minister Kim Kye-gwan were scheduled to begin a new round of talks in Berlin this coming weekend. A main focus of the talks will be arranging for the visit of a senior DPRK official to Washington. Analysts commented on the reasons for this increase in the DPRK's diplomatic activity.
