

US-Korean Nuclear Relations

Recommended Citation

Nuclear Strategy, "US-Korean Nuclear Relations", Uncategorized Nuclear Strategy, August 07, 2001, <https://nautilus.org/uncategorized/us-korean-nuclear-relations/>

The Korean peninsula has played a central role in US nuclear planning since the Korean War.

Cold War nuclear deployments in South Korea by the United States are documented in the article "Where They Were." Examples of modern planning are available here.

FOIA Documents

>> NEW Post-Cold War nuclear planning

>> US nuclear strike training and certification at Kunsan Air Base in 1991

>> Withdrawal of US nuclear weapons from South Korea in 1991

Reports and articles

View this online at: <https://nautilus.org/uncategorized/us-korean-nuclear-relations/>

Nautilus Institute

608 San Miguel Ave., Berkeley, CA 94707-1535 | Phone: (510) 423-0372 | Email:

nautilus@nautilus.org