

US-DPRK Village Wind Power Project: Gallery

April 17, 1999

DPRK Energy Delegation tours the San Francisco Bay Area: Kim Ki Ok, Li Ho Rim, Kim Chang Il, Choe Song Chol, and Ri Kang Jin.

Project Info

April 19-20, 1999

The DPRK Rural Energy Workshop, held at the UC-Berkeley campus, was sponsored by Nautilus Institute; the Energy and Resources Group (ERG), UC-Berkeley; and the University of California Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation (IGCC).

DPRK Delegation at the Rural Energy Workshop, UC Berkeley

Project Info

April 22, 1999

Visit to an Advanced Integrated Wastewater Ponding System at UC Berkeley Richmond Field Station.

Dr. William Oswald explains using algae for biological wastewater treatment at the Richmond Field Station.

Ri Kan Jin and Kim Ki Ok examine an ultraviolet water purification unit at WaterHealth International's Berkeley Lab.

Anushka Dreshcer of WaterHealth International explains the company's water purification technology.

| Project Info |

April 23, 1999

DPRK Delegation tour the Southern Company's Pittsburg, CA power plant control room, along with Mark Gouveia, Plant Manager.

| Project Info |

April 24, 1999

Peter Hayes, Nautilus Institute, points out San Francisco bay vistas to Li Ho Rim, DPRK Delegation Head.

Project Info

April 26, 1999

DPRK Delegation visits the U.S. Capitol building in Washington, D.C.

Pete Smith, International Programs, National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, shows a map of U.S. rural cooperatives.

DPRK Delegation and Councilor Kim Myong Gil (second from left) meet with Allan Hoffmann, the U.S. Department of Energy's Deputy Assistant Secretary for Utility Technologies, and Mary Margaret Jenior, DOE's Office of Building Systems. Jim Williams, Nautilus Institute, (back row, rightmost) is also pictured.

Project Info

April 27, 1999

DPRK Delegation members inspect transformers at the Delaware Electric Cooperative in Greenwood, DE.

DPRK Delegation tours substation at Delaware Electric Cooperative.

Project Info

April 28, 1999

Li Ho Rim, DPRK Delegation Head, briefs congressional aides at a luncheon hosted by the Mansfield Center for Pacific Affairs in Washington, D.C. Also pictured are Gordon Flake, Mansfield Center, (left) and Peter Hayes, Nautilus Institute (right).

At dinner with the W. Alton Jones Foundation, Washington, D.C.

Project Info

April 30, 1999

Mike Apte, Environmental Energy Technology Division, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, discusses indoor air pollution monitoring equipment with the DPRK Delegation.

Javier Rios, Site Manager, Zond Corporation, explains operations at the Altamont wind farm in California.

DPRK Delegation with Javier Rios at the Almont wind farm, CA.

| Project Info |

May 3, 1999

Michael Siminovitch, Fixtures Lab, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, demonstrates energy efficient lighting.

DPRK delegation visits the Asia Foundation, San Francisco, CA

Project Info